Story Board

Back Story

Once upon a time, in a small town, there was a medicine shop called "Health Plus." The shop was run by Mr. Venkat, who had been in the business for many years. Mr. Venkat had always relied on manual processes for managing inventory, tracking sales, and serving customers. He would spend hours every day counting pills, writing down prescriptions, and manually sorting medicines on the shelves. It was a difficult and big task, but Mr. Venkat had never thought of automating his shop.

-Back story

@The Boyzz

- One day, a new pharmacy opened on the other side of town. It was a modern, fully automated medicine store called "MediTech." The store had high-tech machines that could dispense medicines quickly and accurately. It also had a computerized system that kept track of the inventory and handled customer transactions Easily.

- As word spread about the convenience and efficiency of the new store, customers started flocking to MediTech. Mr. Venkat began to worry about losing his customer and decided it was time for him to step into the world of Automation...
